Author Guidelines

Editor-in-Chief Renee Doplick
Coordinating Editor Lori Lyons
ILNquestions@gmail.com

International Law News is the quarterly publication of the American Bar Association’s Section of International Law and has a global readership of legal practitioners, scholars, professionals, and students in public and private international law.

Types of Articles Accepted

- Features (up to 2,500 words) – provide analysis and commentary on recent international law developments and emergent trends, as well as forecasts.

- Briefly Noted (1,000 words) – cover timely legal news, best practices, and insights.

- International Agreements (500 words) – provide updates on international conventions and agreements.

- Careers (500 words) – offer practical advice on career planning, legal practice, education, and networking.

- Casenotes (500 words) – summarize and interpret proceedings and decisions with significance for international and comparative law.

- Book Reviews (500 words) – describe highlights of themes, major points, and what makes the book worth reading.

- Interviews (Invited) - Let us know if there are distinguished judges, practitioners, or scholars whom you would like to see featured.

Article Requirements

- Articles should be original and unpublished.
- Title, article text, author name.
- Optional: short biographical note, such as your position, firm/organization, location, and any current or recent leadership positions in the Section of International Law.
- Optional: acknowledgments. Where included, be brief and straightforward.
- Writing style should be clear, concise, and less formal than a law journal.
- MS Word Format, 8.5 x 11 letter format, 1” margins, 12 pt font, paginated.
- Citations should be inline. No footnotes or endnotes.
Submission Process

- Send your article in MS Word format and contact information to: ILNquestions@gmail.com
- Include your full contact information, including your email and mailing address.
- Disclose any potential conflict of interest.
- Prior publication or simultaneous submission of the article to other publications is discouraged and must be disclosed when submitting your article.

Review Process

- The ILN Editorial Board evaluates articles for originality, depth of analysis, quality of the commentary, relevance, and timeliness.

Accepted Articles

- Accepted articles are edited and sent to the author for approval of factual and legal accuracy.
- The editorial board and coordinating editor reserve the right to make final edits for consistency and minor corrections.
- Authors will need to complete and return the publication agreement.

Copyright

- The ABA retains the copyright to all material published in International Law News. Authors are asked to sign a copyright agreement that grants to the ABA the exclusive right of first publication, the nonexclusive right to reprint, and the right to use the work in other ABA media, including electronic and print. Authors, however, do retain copyright to the text of their articles.

- The author is responsible for obtaining written copyright permission from the copyright owner for non-original:
  - Tables
  - Figures
  - Photographs – must be high-resolution (at least 300 pixels wide x 250 pixel high, .jpeg preferred)