

Members on the Move

The following individuals were featured in Washingtonian Magazine as "A Guide to the Area's 52 Top Divorce Lawyers"

Sanford K. Ain – DC; Rita Bank – DC; Richard Colten – VA; Glenn Cooper – MD; James Cottrell – VA; Faith Dornbrand – MD; Kathleen Dumais – MD; Martin Gannon – VA; Linda Haspel – MD; Hadrian Hatfield – MD; Cheryl Hepfer – MD; Heather Hostetter – MD; Dorothy Isaacs – VA; Armin U. Kuder – DC; Glenn C. Lewis – DC; Robert Liotta – DC; Deborah Luxenberg – DC; Ronald Ogens – MD; Mary Pence – DC; Linda Ravdin – MD; Betty Moore Sandler – VA; Richard Shadyac Jr. – VA; Robert Shoun – VA; Betty Thompson – VA; Marna Tucker – DC; Edna Ruth Vincent – VA

The same article in the Washingtonian also featured this accomplishment by Hadrian Hatfield, Bethesda, MD: on February 10, 2004, Hadrian Hatfield testified before the Maryland Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee on behalf of the Maryland State Bar Association Family and Juvenile Law Section Council in favor of a bill adopting the UCCJEA in Maryland, which the Section Council endorsed. He was invited to reprise this testimony before the Maryland House of Delegates Judiciary Committee on February 19, 2004.

Miles Mason, Sr., Memphis, Tennessee, has been appointed to the Tennessee Bar Journal's Editorial Board following serving as Chair of the TBA Family Law Section. He is a Section Member and ABA Trial Advocacy Institute 1995 graduate.

The American Bar Association's Standing Committee on the Delivery of Legal Services recognized Forrest S. Mosten, Los Angeles, CA, for his career-long dedication to enhancing legal services. The honor observed the 10th Anniversary of the ABA Louis M. Brown Award for Legal Access and was presented at the ABA Midyear Meeting in San Antonio on February 6th.