

Military Family Law Seminar to be Held in San Juan

The Section of Family Law is sponsoring a one-day, no-cost military family law program for legal professionals who provide legal services to military personnel. The seminar will be held on Wednesday, April 28th in San Juan, in conjunction with the Section's Spring Meeting.

The training is be offered at not cost to attendees as a service to those providing assistance to member of the profession who provide legal advice and counsel to our men and women in military service.

The training will be conducted by experts in the field of family law and will cover military issues regarding divorce, domestic violence, child support, domestic and international custody and the new Servicemembers Civil Relief Act.

The training is being produced by Section members Mark Sullivan and Patricia Apy.