

Section of Family Law Publication Program

Through its Publication Program the section offers members an easy, effective way to stay up-to-date on the ever-evolving family law practice. The program is managed by a board of section members who volunteer their time to develop books on topics ranging from alternative family relationships and business valuations to child custody and trial practice.

Currently the section publishes over 25 titles, and each year the members of the publishing board work with authors to develop at least three new titles. Authors are the country's leading family law experts who lend their expertise through the publications program. Best sellers include the Divorce Trial Manual by Lynne Z Gold-Bikin and Stephen A. Kolodny; 101+ Practical Solutions for the Family Lawyer by Gregg Herman and Collaborative Law by Pauline H. Tesler.

Members of the publications board are always interested in hearing from section members regarding topics and authors for developing books. If you have a suggestion for a topic, author or anything else regarding the publications program please feel free to contact one of the publishing board members.

Board members include:

Linda J. Ravdin, chair
Anita M. Ventrelli, vice chair
