

Spring CLE Conference – Save the Date!

The Section of Family Law will meet May 3-6, 2006, at the Washington, DC Renaissance Hotel for the Spring CLE Conference.

This year's Spring CLE Conference is very special in that it has been scheduled to coincide with ABA Day in Washington. ABA Day in Washington is an excellent opportunity to share our views on issues of importance with our leaders on Capitol Hill

As with all Section of Family Law conferences, we have planned a number of outstanding social events and networking opportunities. We have invited ABA President Michael S. Greco to join us at the conference luncheon where we will present Associate Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg with the Section's "Friend of the Family" award (pending ABA Board of Governors' approval). There will be a fantastic evening social event at the elegant Cosmos Club, two conference receptions, three networking breakfasts and the always-popular dine-arounds. Section committees will meet over lunch and the Council will convene as well.

A full compliment of CLE programming is being planned with plenary sessions on relocation, executive compensation and parental alienation. Section committees will present programming on support issues, property issues, domestic violence, tax, technology and international child abduction.

The conference brochure will be mailed in February so check your mail box and register early!

See you in our nation's capitol.
