

Section of Family Law Online Resource Center

How YOU can help us build this valuable member benefit ...

Q: How can I help?

A: You can facilitate knowledge sharing by submitting helpful documents that will serve as resources for our entire membership.

Q: What's in it for me?

A: The Resource Center has generated interest from the Section members and has appeared in the top 15 most frequently visited pages on the family law web site since it's launch in October. The more documents you contribute, the more national exposure you can receive as members view your resources.

Q: How do I submit my documents?

A: Send them to Tina Belanger via e-mail at belanget@staff.abanet.org

Q: What file format should I use?

A: We prefer Microsoft documents, but mydocsonline.com accepts Word Perfect documents as well.

Q: What information should I include with my submission(s)?

A: Please include: 1) a descriptive title of the document; 2) the content category that best fits the topic; and 3) the type of document.

For example: 1) Ten Steps to a Successful Adoption; 2) Adoption; 3) Checklist

Q: What are the available content categories?

A: Adoption; Alimony, Maintenance, Spousal Support; Annulment; Arbitration; Child Support; Civil Procedure; Cohabitation (non-marital); Collaborative Law; Computers, Technology; Custody, Visitation; Divorce; Domestic Torts; Domestic Violence; Enforcement and Exoneration; Ethics, Professional Responsibility; Evidence, Trial Techniques and Testimony; Law Office Management; Malpractice; Marital Settlement Agreements; Marriage – Common Law; Mediation; Negotiation Skills; Paternity; Premarital Agreements; Property Division; Same Sex Unions

Q: What types of documents should you submit?

A: Articles; Pleadings; Forms; Checklists; Briefs; Agreements; Clauses; Legislation; Cases; Guidelines; Legislation; Orders; Judgments; Tax Issues; Petitions; Motions; etc.

Q: What if my submission doesn't fall into any of the available categories?

A: Send a request to Tina Belanger to request the creation of a new category folder. If you need to create a new folder, we prefer that you have at least three documents to submit under the category.
