

Making the Most of Your Membership

Featured member benefit -- Joining the FAMLAWESQ e-mail discussion group.

What is it?

A members-only e-mail discussion group created to facilitate open exchange of ideas, knowledge and referrals between family law attorneys. The Section's most popular group for attorneys, FAMLAWESQ is an active, lively discussion between hundreds of family law members.

Members discuss recent case law changes occurring in the states, jurisdictional issues, model forms and news of interest to practitioners. They often offer advice on office systems that work and expert witnesses who can provide case support.

How do I become a member*?

To subscribe to FAMLAWESQ, please fill out this form and click the "Process Request" button. You will receive an E-mail confirmation of your subscription within 24 hours.

If your browser does not support forms, try sending E-mail to listserv@mail.abanet.org with a line -- subscribe famlawesq followed by your first and last name -- in the body of the message.

What's in it for me?

Harvest expertise and knowledge from hundreds of other family law attorneys.
Network with colleagues from around the country to obtain client referrals.
Discuss timely family law issues to gain insight on new frontiers in family law.

*The FAMLAWESQ discussion group is Limited to lawyers who are members of the ABA Section of Family Law. This discussion group provides a national forum for family law practitioners to discuss and debate substantive family law topics in a collegial setting. Participants are expected to provide their name and e-mail address each time they send messages. Subscriptions will NOT be approved for non-lawyers (including associate ABA members), law students and attorneys who are not Section members.