

LIVING THE LIFE IN Santa Fe

“Living a Life in the Law” was the theme of the LPM Section’s Spring Meeting, held this May in Santa Fe. In addition to provocative presentations and personal coaching sessions, networking roundtables gave Section actives and new attendees a chance to trade ideas for living well. Between the networking and business meetings, cocktails and conversation were served at the fabulous Santa Fe Museum of Art and a sunset dinner was enjoyed amid the mountain views of Museum Hill. Now that’s living the life.

Above, LPM Section Chair Vedia Jones-Richardson with (clockwise from left) Diane Costigan, Ralph Clontz, Aman Bagga, Katherine Clark and Linda Monica.

Past Section Chair Tom Grella, Section Secretary Andrea Hartley, Incoming Chair Walt Karnstein and John Bowers.

Susan Traylor and LPM best-selling author Jay Foonberg, with Pete Roberts, LPM Chair Vedia Jones-Richardson and ABA TECHSHOW Board member Judge Herbert Dixon.

Bill Gibson, a past LPM Chair and Law Practice columnist, speaks with special meeting guest Richard Pena, who is LPM's liaison from the ABA Board of Governors.

At left, Tim Johnson, LPM Publishing's Executive Editor.

LPM Section Director Larry Smith, Ben Schorr and Randy Whitehead. Right, seated: John Remsen, Rodney Dowell, Ed Mays and Erik Mazzone. Standing: Steve Matthews and Michael Downey.

Meeting magicians Jody Hanson and Shelby Meyer kept the smiles going and the buses running.

Future Section leaders ... or future wranglers? The youngest meeting attendees, Jack and Max Feldman.

