SECTION 101. SHORT TITLE
This Act is entitled a Model Act Governing ART Agencies.

SECTION 102. DEFINITIONS

1. "Assisted Reproductive Technology" or "ART" means a variety of clinical treatments and laboratory procedures, which include the handling of human oocytes, sperm, or Embryos, with the intent of establishing a pregnancy. This includes, but is not limited to, in vitro fertilization (IVF), Gamete intrafallopian transfer (GIFT), zygote intrafallopian transfer (ZIFT), Embryo biopsy, preimplantation genetic diagnosis (PGD), Embryo cryopreservation, oocyte or Embryo donation, and gestational surrogacy. This definition, for purposes of this Act, does not include artificial insemination, the process by which a man's fresh or frozen sperm sample is introduced into a woman's vagina, other than by sexual intercourse.

2. "Assisted Reproductive Technology Agency" or "ART Agency" means any Person that facilitates Collaborative Reproduction by:

(a) Planning or arranging the details of agency services with the Intended Parent(s);
(b) Setting the timeline for the services; establishing the type of services to be rendered; acquiring or coordinating the services of third party licensed professionals;
(c) Recruiting and/or obtaining personal information regarding Donors, Gametes or Surrogates;
(d) Making, negotiating, or completing the financial arrangements;
(e) Directing, having real or apparent authority over, or supervising, directly or indirectly, the matching process between the Intended Parent(s) and Donors, Gametes or Surrogates;
(f) Directing, being in charge or apparent charge of, or supervising, directly or indirectly, the services to be provided by another licensed Person;
(g) Using in connection with one's name or employment the words or terms "Agency," "agency owner," or any other word, term, title, or picture, or combination of any of the above, that when considered in the context in which used would imply that such Person is engaged in the practice of agency ownership or that such Person is holding herself or himself out to the public as being engaged in the practice of providing services related to matching egg Donors or Surrogates; provided, however, that nothing in this paragraph shall prevent using the name of any Owner, department, or corporate director of an agency, who is not a licensee, in connection with the name of the agency with which such individual is affiliated, so long as such individual's affiliation is properly specified; or
(h) Managing or supervising the operation of an agency, except for administrative matters such as budgeting, accounting and personnel, maintenance of buildings, equipment and grounds, and routine clerical and recordkeeping functions.

(i) A Person who facilitates Collaborative Reproduction shall not be considered an ART Agency under this Act, so long as that Person is not also performing actions detailed above in (a)-(h).

(j) A Person who facilitates Collaborative Reproduction shall not provide medical, legal, insurance or psychological services unless they are themselves licensed within such profession.

3. “Client” means Intended Parent(s) working with an ART Agency.

4. “Collaborative Reproduction” means any ART in which an individual other than the Intended Parent(s) provides genetic material or agrees to act as a Surrogate. It can include, but is not limited to: (1) attempts by Intended Parent(s) to create a child through means of a Surrogacy agreement, with or without the involvement of Donors; and (2) assisted reproduction involving Donors where a Surrogate is not used.

5. “Conflict of Interest” means a situation where a Provider has financial interests that could potentially influence the services rendered a Participant in Collaborative Reproduction.

Legislative Note: States will insert conflict of interest standards as reflected by statute and case law.

6. “Cycle” means an attempt to establish pregnancy, with the assistance of a Donor or Surrogate, through the use of medical techniques or therapies including but not limited to ART through IVF or artificial insemination.

7. “Department” means a division or department of the State government charged by statute with authority to oversee the licensing, regulation and/or administration of professionals in that State.

Legislative Note: States should determine the department under the State’s own organizational scheme that is best suited to oversee ART Agencies.

8. “Donor” means an individual who produces eggs or sperm used for ART, whether or not for consideration. The term does not include: (a) an Intended Parent who provides Gametes, to be used for assisted reproduction; (b) a woman who gives birth to a child by means of assisted reproduction; or (c) an Intended Parent. An “Embryo Donor” means an individual or individuals with dispositional control of an Embryo who provide(s) it to another for gestation and relinquish(es) all present and future parental and inheritance rights and obligations to a resulting individual or individuals.

9. “Embryo” means a cell or group of cells containing a diploid complement of chromosomes or group of such cells (not a Gamete or Gametes) that has the potential to development into a live born human being if transferred into the body of a woman under conditions in which gestation may be reasonably expected to occur.

10. “Escrow Account” means an independent, insured, bonded escrow depository maintained by a licensed, independent, bonded escrow company; or an insured and bonded trust account maintained by an attorney.

   (a) For purposes of this section, a non-attorney ART Agency may not have a financial interest in any escrow company holding client funds. A non-attorney ART Agency and any of its officers, managers, owners of more than 5% ownership interest, directors or employees shall not be an agent of any escrow company holding client funds; and

   (b) Client funds may only be disbursed by the attorney or Escrow Agent as set forth in the assisted reproduction agreement and the fund management agreement between the Intended Parent(s) and the Escrow Account holder.

11. “Escrow Agent” means the trustee for an Escrow Account.

12. “Gamete” means a cell containing a haploid complement of DNA that has the potential to form an Embryo when combined with another Gamete. Sperm and eggs are Gametes. A Gamete may consist of nuclear DNA from one human being combined with the cytoplasm, including cytoplasmic DNA, of another human being.

13. “Intended Parent” means an individual, married or unmarried, who manifests the intent as provided in this Act to be legally bound as the parent of a child resulting from assisted or Collaborative Reproduction.

Legislative Note: This definition is for guidance only and is not intended to change the standard of care for the delivery of professional services or shift the burden of proof otherwise required within the jurisdiction.

14. “Owner” means any and all Persons who, directly or acting by or through one or more Persons, owns more than a 5% interest in an ART Agency.

15. “Participant” means any Intended Parent, Donor or Surrogate, whether or not a written contractual relationship exists with the ART Agency.

17. “Record” means information inscribed in a tangible medium or stored in an electronic or other medium that is retrievable in perceivable form.

18. “Service Agreement” means an agreement between an ART Agency and Intended Parent(s) describing the services to be performed.
19. “Surrogate” means an adult woman, not an Intended Parent, who enters into a surrogacy agreement to bear a child, whether or not she has any genetic relationship to the resulting child. Both a traditional surrogate (a woman who undergoes insemination and fertilization of her own eggs in vivo) and a gestational surrogate (a woman into whom an embryo formed using eggs other than her own is transferred) are surrogates.

20. “Surrogacy” means an arrangement between Intended Parent(s) and a Surrogate.

REPORT

Introduction & Summary

Assisted Reproductive Technologies (ART) is the collaboration of various professions all synchronized to resolve infertility visited upon an Intended Parent. Certain aspects of infertility are respectively addressed by licensed professionals including psychologists, physicians, and attorneys. Each of these professions is guided and regulated to some extent by the substantive and ethical rules of its various professional organizations and its licensing requirements.

The ABA Model Act Governing Assisted Reproduction Technologies was adopted by the ABA House of Delegates in 2008. Resolution 107, adopted by the House of Delegates in February 2008, was cosponsored by the following Sections: Individual Rights and Responsibilities; Real Property, Trust and Estate Law; Science and Technology Law; Young Lawyers Division; and the Health Law. The ABA Model Act governing Assisted Reproduction Technologies established for intended parents and licensed professionals a single baseline legal standard from which to foster predictability within the Intended Parent-Licensed Professional relationship. This is especially important given the tendency in ART for intended parents to seek professional support beyond the geographic boundaries typically seen in medical, psychological and legal sub-specialties.

When ART requires collaboration with persons outside of the intended parent – professional relationship, this is referred to as third party ART. Third party ART (gamete or embryo donation and surrogacy) is impacted by the services provided by certain recruiting and matching agencies. These agencies receive and manage prospective intended parents’ funds for the purpose of matching them with desirable donors/surrogates as well as administering various aspects of their ongoing fertility program. Agencies can be owned and operated by anyone without professional training or affiliation. There are documented cases in which the owners of such agencies have misappropriated and absconded with client funds and otherwise inadequately or negligently administered their programs to the detriment of their clients and their donors/surrogates.

The lack of oversight with regard to ART agencies puts the Intended Parents, donors and surrogates at risk of legal and financial harm. Regarding such agencies, there is a significant gap in the licensing and regulation that governs most other aspects of the ART process. Such licensing and regulation should be proposed and adopted. To this end, this Resolution is designed to reduce the possibility of harm and abuse by providing the Intended Parents and other ART participants a basis upon which to predict performance of an ART agency, by promoting professionalism and best practices for ART agencies through licensing. Through this Resolution, Intended Parents and other ART participants can become better-informed consumers as a result of the implementation of objective standards required for the licensure of an ART agency.

This Resolution proposes the ABA Model Act Governing ART Agencies for jurisdictions seeking to develop their own legislation governing ART agencies. By adopting this Resolution, the legal community will be providing a model licensing structure to help states ensure that agencies providing support to the third party reproduction process are doing so with accountability and to help establish ethical and best practices for ART agencies, for the benefit of all ART participants.

Background

Infertility, the inability to conceive, may be physiological or anatomical in origin. A problem may arise in the production, delivery or viability of gametes (sperm, eggs or embryos). A problem may arise in the implantation or retention of the embryo or fetus. Within the entire spectrum of infertility, one-third of all infertility is attributed to females, one-third to males and one-third to a combination of problems in both partners or to unexplained causes. (www.asrm.org).

Assisted reproductive technology (ART) procedures are increasingly used as a method of family formation and to overcome various forms of infertility.

Infertility was defined as a disease in 2009, by the World Health Organization. The Supreme Court considers the inability to reproduce as a disability, stating that reproduction is a “major life activity,” and “conditions that interfere with reproduction should be regarded as disabilities” as per the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1991. (Bragdon v Abbott, 524 US 624, 629; 118 S Ct 2196. 1998). Under such a rubric, we are dealing with persons who are intellectually compromised, through stress associated with the underlying infertility, and physically. As such, these persons are subject to exploitation.

This Resolution will provide states a model licensing structure which will promote predictability and accountability for the benefit of Intended Parents and all ART participants with respect to the services provided by currently unlicensed third party ART agencies. Such a licensing structure will also help to minimize exploitation of the ART participants, foster professionalism and provide a mechanism for dispute resolution.

Infertility Statistics

A survey of the statistics is instructive to appreciate how infertility impacts society. A couple aged 29-33 years with a normal functioning reproductive system has a 20-25% chance of conceiving in any given month (National Women’s Health Resource Center, 2015). After six months of trying, 60% of couples will conceive without medical assistance; 90% after one-year. (Id). The remaining couples are diagnosed as infertile.

The 2011 statistics show that of 2,670,545 births in the US, at least 38,496 (1.44%) of the children were born from ART. (See generally, Thoma ME, Boulet S, Martin JA, Kissin D. Births resulting from assisted reproductive technology: Comparing birth certificate and National ART Surveillance System data, 2011. National Center for Health Statistics. 2014). The 2013 census noted there were 3,957,577 births in the U.S. (Hamilton BE, Martin JA, Osterman MJK, Curtin SC. Births: Preliminary data for 2013. National vital statistics reports. National Center for Health Statistics. 2014), suggesting approximately 56,989 births from ART in 2013, and demonstrating an increasing reliance upon ART for family building.

The Psychosocial Costs of Infertility

The Financial Costs of Infertility

Medical fees and costs associated with ART treatment can be characterized as ‘direct’ or ‘indirect’. The direct costs are primarily attributed to medical treatment addressing the infertility and include consultations, medications and hormone treatments, laboratory services, testing, gamete (egg and/or sperm) retrieval and embryo transfer, as well as associated administrative and overhead charges. (See generally, Connoly MP, Hoorens S, Chambers GM. The Costs and Consequences of Assisted Reproductive Technology. Hum. Reprod., Update 2010).

On the microeconomic side of infertility, patients expect to pay $50,000 - $100,000 for gestational surrogacy, $15,000 - $20,000 for donor eggs, $12,000 for IVF, and $3,000 - $5,000 for medications. (Rosata D, How High-Tech Baby Making Fuels the Infertility Market Boon. Money, July 9, 2014). Sober thought requires factoring success rates into the true cost of treatment - as the national IVF success rate for a live birth ranges from 40 to 50% depending upon the source of the eggs. (SART.org, Clinic Summary Report, 2013). Thus, there is a very real possibility that a second cycle, and another round of costs, may be required. On a macroeconomic level, the infertility marketplace is expanding. As of 2013, the fertility market was independently valued at a recession proof, $3.5 billion with a 3.6% annual growth. (U.S. Fertility Clinics & Infertility Services: An Industry Analysis, October, 2013).

Clearly, costs of fertility treatment are high, and such treatment is voluntary and risky. Within the United States, fifteen states have either an insurance mandate to offer, or an insurance mandate to cover, some level of infertility treatment. Eight of those states have an insurance mandate that requires qualified employers to include IVF coverage in their plans offered to their employees. “Insurance Coverage in Your State.” RESOLVE, n.d. Web. 10 Dec., 2015.
With a partial or complete absence of financial risk protection, the majority of infertility health care costs are paid with out-of-pocket payments [OoPP] by consumers. “...The high price of IVF cycles ($12,000 for each cycle, and frequently multiple cycles), plus drugs, exams and tests deters many. The total price tag can top $50,000 or more ...” (Marketdata Enterprises, Inc., Research Director, John LaRosa, 2013). While OoPP may be seen as a severe infringement to a right to reproductive health, OoPP absolutely impacts the current and future wellbeing of the Intended Parent(s) as a financial stressor.

Third Party Reproduction Services

As stated above, ART is collaboration of various licensed professionals, including psychologists, physicians, and attorneys. Each is guided and regulated by the rules of their professional organization and their licensing requirements.

When we speak of resolving infertility through “third party” reproduction, we expand the collaboration to include unlicensed persons, as well as ART agencies that help to match Intended Parents with the necessary third parties (gamete donor or gestational carrier) to resolve their infertility. The third party is never licensed, rather, she or he only operate through the authority of the medical consent forms signed at a fertility clinic and/or contracts entered into with the intended parents.

Commonly, ART agencies will provide fee-based services to match their intended parents with gamete donors and/or surrogates recruited by the ART agency. The fees are typically nonrefundable and range from $4,000 for a gamete donor to $20,000 for a gestational carrier. Yet, ART agencies can be owned and operated by anyone without professional training or affiliation. While many ART agency owners were themselves infertile, provided eggs or acted as gestational carrier, most do not have any form of education addressing medicine, ethics or law related to ART.

ART Regulation in the United States

There are few laws which address commercialization within third party reproduction; two states outlaw ART agencies; one state requires the use of escrow accounts. There are no Federal code sections on the provision of ART through Agencies.

The two largest professional medical organizations for reproductive medicine, American Society for Reproductive Medicine (“ASRM”) and the Society for Assisted Reproductive Technology (“SART”), have issued practice and ethical guidelines for their members. However, membership in the organizations is voluntary and the guidelines are self-regulated.

Thus, there is no national regulation of surrogacy and the states provide a mere patchwork quilt of policies and laws. This lack of law or regulation of third party reproduction is cast against a backdrop of rising reliance on such medical services. This lack of law and regulation has permitted ART agencies to take advantage of their clients to the extent of delayed or lost reproductive cycles, and, in some of the most egregious cases where fraud is involved, theft of millions of dollars. To be fair, there is not an epidemic of abuse by ART agencies. However, the impact of abuse within any family building scenario is very devastating and infects all aspects of the aggrieved Intended Parents’ lives.

Thus, we see the event horizon for abuse of an Intended Parent operating under an intellectual disability arising from an infertility diagnosis. First, the Intended Parent is under psychosocial stress resulting from his or her reproductive failures. Second, the Intended Parent is under financial stress because of expensive OoPPs, most often without insurance support. Third, the Intended Parent is under stress because of an inability to predict a positive outcome. Certainly, licensed professionals can provide the client security through their personal skill sets and licensure. The unlicensed ART agency, however, can offer nothing more than their most recent endorsement.

If an ART cycle fails because of an unlicensed or unregulated ART agency, everyone is harmed. The Intended Parent is harmed; e.g., loss of money and opportunity. The donor or carrier is harmed; e.g., unnecessary medical treatment. The institute of family is harmed; e.g., disincetive toward unique ways to address infertility. In addition, the moral fabric of society is harmed; e.g., no ability to rectify the injury to the Parties participating in the ART cycle in a productive manner. Lewin, Tamar. “The Surrogacy Agency that Delivered Heartache.” New York Times. 25 Jul. 2014. Web.; Press Release. “Surrogacy Scam.” FBI. 13 Sept. 2011. Web.

To this end, this Resolution, is designed to reduce the possibility of harm and abuse by providing the Intended Parents and other ART participants a basis upon which to predict performance of an ART agency, by promoting professionalism and best practices for ART agencies through licensing. Through this Resolution, Intended Parents and other ART participants can become better-informed consumers as a result of the implementation of objective standards required for the licensure of an ART agency.

Licensure of ART Agencies

Under the Resolution, ART agencies shall be required to apply for licensure within the jurisdiction it resides or expects to do business. Licensure, first of all, is the mark of a professional. The licensure process is intensive and demands an extra showing of competence and dedication. This reflects a general view that licensed professionals are more dedicated, with enhanced education, leadership and management skills.

Licensure is an indicator of dedication to integrity, hard work, and creativity, and an assurance that the ART agency has competence, even if at a minimal level. This Resolution prescribes an application process that requires detailed information and a demonstration of competency to be eligible for licensure within the relevant jurisdiction. Requested information includes, but is not limited to, a lack of a criminal background, a description of all ART related education in which the Agency has participated, and a minimum ongoing education requirement to maintain such license. The Resolution also addresses the consequences of failure of ART agencies to maintain minimum competency such as discipline, loss of license, and sanctions including fines by the licensing body.
Licensure becomes a basis upon which to predict competence. The Resolution describes certain affirmative duties due to an ART agency’s clients. Such duties include freedom from coercion and refraining from providing medical and/or legal advice. The Resolution also requires ART agencies to provide their clients clear, written documentation describing the duties to be performed by the agency, the fees charged for such services and conditions for rebating fees paid.

Through the Resolution, licensure is also recognized as a starting point for professional growth and development of ART agencies, and participation in professional activities such as education programs is part of the ongoing activities of a true professional service entity.

Finally, the Resolution supports the concept that through licensure ART agencies must meet certain ethical and financial responsibility standards, including requirements for holding client funds in an escrow account with appropriate bonding and insurances.

Conclusion

Through the adoption of this Resolution, the ABA voices its support and understanding of: 1) the vulnerability of Intended Parents who rely upon third party reproduction to treat their infertility; and 2) the importance of creating and fostering a licensing structure for third party reproduction ART agencies that match gamete donors and surrogates with Intended Parents who must rely on them to help build their families through assisted reproduction.

An ART agency licensing structure will provide assurances to the infertile population that ART agencies are providing professional support in a fashion that is predictable and accountable. Through the adoption of this Resolution, the ABA will provide a model licensing structure from which a jurisdiction can establish its own licensing paradigm and will help establish ethical and best practices for ART agencies, for the benefit of all ART participants.

1. Summary of Resolution(s). The Resolution recommends consideration and adoption of the Model Act Governing ART Agencies by appropriate governmental agencies and legislatures.

2. Approval by Submitting Entity. The ABA Section of Family Law approved submission of this Resolution on November 9, 2015.

3. Has this or a similar resolution been submitted to the House or Board previously?
   No.

4. What existing Association policies are relevant to this Resolution and how would they be affected by its adoption? The ABA Model Act Governing Assisted Reproduction Technologies was adopted by the ABA House of Delegates in 2008 ("Resolution 107"). Resolution 107, adopted by the House of Delegates in February 2008, established for intended parents and licensed professionals a single baseline legal standard from which to foster predictability within the Intended Parent-Licensed Professional relationship. This is especially important given the tendency in ART for intended parents to seek professional support beyond the geographic boundaries typically seen in medical, psychological and legal sub-specialties. Resolution 107, adopted in 2008, did not address regulation or licensing of assisted reproduction agencies. The Model Act Governing ART Agencies will supplement Resolution 107 and will act to provide further predictability and accountability for Intended Parents and all ART participants with respect to the services provided by currently unlicensed third party ART agencies.

5. If this is a late report, what urgency exists which requires action at this meeting of the House? This is not a late report, but some urgency exists in that third party ART agencies are currently unregulated and the reliance upon and use of assisted reproduction as a method of family formation continues to increase every year. This lack of law and regulation increases the potential for exploitation of vulnerable intended parents, surrogates and gamete donors as more unlicensed and unregulated third party ART agencies enter the industry and provide third party ART services. Acting now demonstrates the ABA’s leadership in protecting the participants in third party reproduction and fostering a licensing structure for third party ART agencies.

7. Brief explanation regarding plans for implementation of the policy, if adopted by the House of Delegates. Submission to the states for adoption.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. Summary of the Resolution
The Resolution recommends consideration and adoption by appropriate governmental agencies and legislatures of the Model Act Governing ART Agencies, which provides model licensing legislation governing ART agencies.

2. Summary of the Issue that the Resolution Addresses
Assisted Reproductive Technologies (ART) is the intersection of various professions all synchronized to resolve infertility visited upon an Intended Parent. Certain aspects of infertility are respectively addressed by licensed professionals including psychologists, physicians, and attorneys. Each of these professions is guided and regulated to some extent by the substantive and ethical rules of their various professional organizations and their licensing requirements.

When assisted reproduction requires collaboration with persons outside of the intended parent – professional relationship, this is referred to as third party ART. Third party ART (gamete or embryo donation and surrogacy) is impacted by the services provided by certain recruiting and matching agencies ("ART agencies"). ART agencies receive and manage prospective intended parents’ funds for the purpose of matching them with desirable donors/surrogates as well as administering various aspects of their ongoing fertility program. ART agencies can be owned and operated by anyone without the professional training, licensing or regulation that governs most other aspects of the ART process.

The reliance upon and use of assisted reproduction as a method of family formation continues to increase every year. The lack of law and regulation of third party ART agencies increases the potential for exploitation of vulnerable intended parents, surrogates and gamete donors as more unlicensed and unregulated third party ART agencies enter the industry and provide third party ART services.

3. Please Explain How the Proposed Policy Position will address the issue
The Model Act Governing Assisted Reproductive Technology Agencies will provide states a model licensing structure which will promote predictability and accountability for the benefit of Intended Parents and all ART participants with respect to the services provided by currently unlicensed third party ART agencies. Such a licensing structure will also help to minimize exploitation of the ART participants, foster professionalism and provide a mechanism for dispute resolution.

4. Summary of Minority Views
At the time of the writing of this Resolution with Report and summary, we are not aware of any formal reported direct opposition to the approval of the Model Act Governing ART Agencies.
